Student Government Up For Vote

Sodalist To Fight For Far East Missions

San Pablo Bouts In the Auditorium Tomorrow Night

The third annual San Pablo bouts will be presented in the college auditorium tomorrow evening, March 14, at 8:30 p. m. These bouts are sponsored by the Sodalist for the financial benefit of the Le Moyne-adopted San Pablo Mission. This mission, operated by the Society of Jesus in the Philippine province of Laguna, consists of a high school founded the same year as Le Moyne and is located in the midst of a Communist-guerrilla infested section of the Islands.

As in past years, the program will consist of two short bouts between young boys from the House of Providence fighting in the mosquito-weight division. This will be followed by lightweight, middleweight, and heavyweight bouts in that order. The "Fight of the Century" between "Whitey" McPherson and "Chick" Byrne will be continued this year with the usual amount of laughs for the audience.

As of now, twenty-six men are working out at the Catholic Youth Organization on North Salina street. The main objective of these afternoon and evening sessions of training is conditioning and timing. Each participant is required to have a physical exam.

At present, enthusiasm is running high and competitive spirit is keen among the members of the boxing squad.

For the third time Commissioner of Parks William A. Barry has donated the use of a regulation, professional ring for these charity bouts. "Bud" Hunter, a junior majoring in Industrial Relations, is again in charge of the arrangements.

Rev. John V. Curry, S.J., and Mr. J. Alan Davitt, S.J., who are to lecture in Auburn in the near future, pose with James Pitcher, General Chairman of the Auburn Club Lecture Committee and vice-president of the club.

Auburn Club Takes Lecture Series To Home Town; Father Curry To Begin Talks

The Auburn Club of Le Moyne College will present a series of four lectures in Auburn starting Sunday, March 16. The first of the speakers is The Rev. John V. Curry, S.J., Chairman of the English Department and Moderator of THE DOLPHIN. The title of Father Curry's lecture is "Literature and Morality: What's the Connection?"

The Auburn Club is sponsoring these lectures in order to raise money for its loan fund which will be administered through the Father Beglan Fund. The club also hopes by means of these lectures to bring interesting discussions of Christian life and morality to Auburn Catholics.

Rev. Charles E. F. Hoefner, S.J., Dean of Men, the second speaker in the series, will be presented March 23. His lecture is "Catholic Worship: Its Appeal to the Whole Man."

Mr. J. Alan Davitt, S.J., classics instructor and Moderator of the Chaumonot Forum, will speak March 30 on "A Recall to Liberal Education: The Jesuit System."

Rev. Raymond J. H. Kennedy, S.J., Chairman of the Philosophy Department, will conclude the series on April 6 with "Graft and Gambling in America: Are They Sinful?"

Jim Pitcher, Junior Business Major, heads the committee set up for the lecture series. James Nolan is in charge of publicity; James Burke, tickets; Robert Wilson, arrangements; Paul Morris, finances.

LATE SPORTS BULLETIN

The Rev. Thomas J. McGurty, S.J., moderator of athletics at Le Moyne, has announced that the Dolphin basketball team has received a bid to the National Catholic Invitational Tournament, and accepted, thus becoming the eleventh team to enter the tourney to be held at Troy March 15-22. The Nilandmen are scheduled to play in one of the games of the doubleheader Saturday night. Their opponent has yet to be named.

This will be the second time that Le Moyne has competed in the N.C.I.T., losing out in the semi-final round last year to St. Francis of Brooklyn.

The Nilandmen are held in high regard by the fans of the Capitol District area because of their battles with Siena's Indians. This year the teams have split a pair of games.

Mr. Thomas, Director of the N.C.I.T., stated at the time of the invitation that he was very much impressed by the student turnout at last year's tournament. Realizing that enthusiasm and school spirit run high at Le Moyne, Mr. Thomas has sent 500 tickets, at the student price of $1.50, to Father McGurty. These tickets are on sale at the booth outside the cafeteria.

Proposals Subject To Ratification By Council; Enforcement Included

The Student Council has proposed the introduction of Student Government at Le Moyne. The College authorities have approved this plan and it awaits ratification by the class representatives.

The structure of the impending governmental system is composed of three departments: the legislative, the executive, and the judicial. These branches will be under the supervision of the Dean of Men who will be the ultimate authority in Student Government matters.

It will be the duty of the legislative body to pass or amend bills or repeal laws which have been brought to it for consideration. The permanent committee will have a Senior as chairman and will be staffed by five members of the Council.

An Executive Council will enforce the laws and regulations that concern student discipline. This important department will be composed of members of the Student Council. A definite procedure for the apprehension of offenders has been formulated and a Disciplinary Enforcement Committee will report and record all violations.

A system of courts with distinctive powers and duties will be formed. The judges of the Trial Court and the Court of Appeals shall be elected by the Student Council. The Supreme Court will consist of the Dean of Men and any such members as he may designate.

Further and more detailed information regarding the entire system of government will be available in pamphlet form for all students in the near future.

THE DOLPHIN TIPS HIS HAT TO —

R. Hennessey

Robert "Beefer" Hennessey, a senior Sociology major, is the recipient of this issue's Bieber-Isaacs' award. To gain this award a student must have exhibited outstanding loyalty and service to the College.

Sports claim the major part of "Beefer's" extra-curricular activities. He played Intra-Mural football and then gained a position as manager of the basketball team; this is the capacity in which most people have come to know him.

Little thought or credit is given to a team manager. Most people read the headlines and scoring records, but never know the man who makes a great deal of this possible. "Beefer's" duties are many and varied. He must check and pack equipment, see that uniforms are cleaned and in good condition. He has to sort mail and handle some of the paper work which comes into the athletic office. He is close to being a secretary to the coach. On all road-trips and home games he can be seen busily settling every problem and preparing the way for a smoothly running evening. These and many other tasks make up the work of a good manager.

Certainly, "Beefer" is more than eligible to receive the Bieber-Isaac sport coat which will soon be presented to him.

Tales From Spin Alley

By Bill Spinelli

In times gone by, when knights were bold and days were cold, there was in the land of Kroywen-lartnee a deep, dismal swamp inhabited by creatures called ineffectual intellectuals. The leader of these creatures was named Ogop, hence the tribe was called "The Cult of Ogop."

Now this Ogop, one day, called in all his tribe and solemnly proclaimed, "Fellow, ineffectual intellectuals, we is illiterates. In this day, we need college deplomas so we can get jobs. I have decided that we must go to college!"

And so Ogop and his tribe went off to college. They picked an establishment named Nihplod College, which was located in a teeny industrial city. Nihplod College was a young institution, just making a name for itself, when "The Cult of Ogop" descended en masse on it. The influx was terrible to behold. Soon every course was jammed with ineffectual intellectuals. They asked all sorts of intelligent questions of the instructors. Questions such as, "Who won last night's game between the Nats and the Knicks?" "Do you like the beer better in a bottle or in a can?" "Do you think the world is round or flat?" All this questioning was necessary, of course, because the Cult of Ogop was illiterate—i.e.—they couldn't read.

But one bright day, Ogop called together his cult and announced with pleasure, "Fellow ineffectual intellectuals, we is no longer illiterate. We has captured a real, live English major. He's going to read the papers to us every day."

The Cult of Ogop reacted very gleefully to this truly astounding statement. In no time at all, they had achieved their goal. They were no longer illiterates. With no fuss, bother or strain, their impediment had been removed.

Every morning, the captive English major would read the newspapers to the Cult of Ogop. He would also read the notices on the bulletin boards and all pertinent information to their exalted state of life—college students. But now the old axiom that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing came into full operation. Before their illiteracy had been removed, the Cult of Ogop had been supremely content. They could not read so they did not know what was going on in the world about them. But now, the world was rudely intruding into their lives. They became very sad and unhappy. They began to moan and mumble. Every day, they would sit in the cafeteria over their cups of coffee and gripe about what was going on in the college. They complained about examinations and instructors who expected them to do a little work in the course. They complained because the instructors demanded more intelligent questions than the ones they had formally asked.

"Just because we is literate, they think we should think," was the common lament of the cult. Ogop saw the discontent brewing in his cult, so he called them together and said, "Fellow ineffectual intellectuals, all our misery is due to the fact that we is no longer illiterate. But our misery is only temporary. We must suffer and work hard if we is to succeed in life."

At this the cult broke out in open revolt. Ogop was deposed. Gumchewer was established as leader and as his first act, he released the English major and turned the cult back into illiterates.

Ogop was exiled to a swamp in Georgia where he changed his name and remained completely unknown until a fellow by the name of Walt Kelly came along and made him famous.

Seniors Hear Talks On Lay Apostolate Each Thursday Nite

A series of lectures on the Lay Apostolate began Thursday, February 28, for Le Moyne Seniors. These lectures are held in the auditorium at 8 p. m. each Thursday.

In order to help the Seniors fulfill their duties in their chosen fields and to fulfill the wish of the Holy Father that the laity help in the Church's work, Le Moyne College is offering this series of lectures.

The remaining lectures are:

Thursday, March 20—The Lay Apostle in the Community and the Nation. Rev. Andrew Brady, S.J.

Thursday, April 3—The Lay Apostle and Marriage. Rt. Rev. Robert E. Dillon.

Thursday, April 24—Lay Apostle and Marriage. Rev. Vincent P. McCorry, S.J.

Thursday, May 1—The Lay Apostle in the Parish. Rev. A. Robert Casey.

NOVENA OF GRACE

The annual Novena of Grace in honor of St. Francis Xavier, a Jesuit missionary saint, was held from March 4 to March 12 in the chapel of the North American Martyrs.

Benediction and the recitation of the novena prayers took place each day. On the last three days of the novena talks on the life of St. Francis were given by Rev. Lewis Cox, S.J., on Monday; Rev. Andrew Brady, S.J., on Tuesday, and by the Very Rev. William J. Schlaerth, S.J., on Wednesday.

Truth In Action

(Formerly the Blue Swordsman)

A fully educated man, the product of Le Moyne, is born as a result of concentration of three aspects of learning—the spiritual, the intellectual, and the social. There are probably three places on the campus where it can be said that these aspects are usually put into practice. With regard to the intellectual or cultural, we have the classroom and the auditorium; for the social we have the cafeteria; and for the spiritual, the chapel.

The Chapel of the North American Martyrs, in one sense, the most important of the three places. For it is here where all the aspects of Christian education converge, and center on Him around whom everything at Le Moyne, and everything in the world, revolves. That is what makes this little room the busiest location on the campus. Here, morning, noon, and night, there is activity.

This is where the communion bell tinkles in the stillness of the early day, compelling drowsy faces to attention, and sending its ringing voice out to stir the silence of the empty corridor.

Here, throughout the day, busy scholars halt their hurried pace, and drop to one knee to exchange a quick hello with their Friend.

In the evening, when the vigil lights cast their flickering glow on the surrounding walls, we can often find a single supplicant kneeling here.

As the years go by, this will continue to be the place where numberless souls will lose their troubles and gain new hopes. Students will always stop here to praise and thank their God; perhaps simply by letting Him know that they like Le Moyne and all the rest of His creatures. And we can feel confident that this chapel will continue to be the setting of many spiritual insights and inspirations involving eternity.

From year to year, different faces make their appearance in the chapel. This is that annual change, in which new faces are added and old ones disappear. In the ages to come, they will all have completely changed, save one. This, the face of Christ, will have a day in all the days of Le Moyne. The center of attraction will remain as long as there is someone new to greet, and someone old to send out on the road which leads to Himself.

MOVIES

The I.R. Club will sponsor a series of educational movies to be shown in S 214 at 3:10 p. m. The dates will be posted on the cafeteria bulletin board. Students and faculty are invited to attend.

Popular Spring Lecture Series Begins With Capacity Crowds In Attendance

Capacity crowds attended the first two in a series of six lectures held in the college auditorium. Rev. Charles E. F. Hoefner, S.J., Dean of Men, opened the series March 2 with "Catholic Worship: Its Appeal to the Whole Man."

Using slides to illustrate his talk, Father Hoefner told the audience that from the beginning, man had expressed his belief in God by creating works of art.

The second lecture, "Women and Religion and Vice Versa," was delivered March 9 by Rev. Vincent P. McCorry, S.J., assistant director of Christ the King Retreat House.

Father Hoefner declared the beauty of cathedrals appeals to man's sight, the incense to his sense of smell, and music and chants to his hearing.

Father McCorry investigated the relationship between religion and women, discussing religion as a force in the world affecting women.

He also described what women have done for the Church and what the Church has done for women.

Father McCorry, a former moderator of THE DOLPHIN, is the author of three books, "Most Worthy of All Praise," "Those Terrible Teens," and "As We Ought."

William F. Topp, secretary to the Very Rev. William J. Schlaerth, S.J., president of Le Moyne, said the lectures, which were begun four years ago, are continuing to win the acclaim of large audiences.

The remaining spring lectures will be:

March 16, "A Recall to Liberal Education: The Jesuit System," by J. Alan Davitt, S.J.; March 23, "Modern Ireland: Political, Economic and Social Aspects," by the Rev. Richard M. McKeon, S.J., director of the School of Industrial Relations; March 30, "Graft and Gambling in America: Are They Sinful?" by the Rev. Raymond J. H. Kennedy, S.J.; April 6, "The Mass and the Idea of Sacrifice Today," by the Rev. Edward J. Messmer, S.J.

Annual Debate Meet March 22; Le Moyne Host to 30 Teams

Approximately 30 colleges and universities have been invited to participate in the first Annual Le Moyne Debate Tournament, Saturday, March 22. Most of these schools are near Syracuse and none are more than four hours traveling distance away.

To date, the following schools have accepted an invitation to the tourney: Rochester University, Ulia College, Niagara University, Canisius College, Syracuse University, Siena College, Oswego State Teachers, Hobart College, Wells College, Scranton University, and College Misericordia, Dallas, Pa.

Registration for the debates will be between 10 and 10:30 a. m. Registration will be followed by the first round of debating. After lunch the debaters will enter the second and third rounds of competition. Then the results will be announced.

Each school must bring a critic-judge for each pair of affirmative and negative teams. All debates will be on the national topic, Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Adopt a Permanent Program of Wage and Price Control.

The members of the arrangements committee of the host team, the Chaumont Debate Forum, are Gerard Tucker, Thomas Burns, Maureen Gaynor, and Suzanne Murray.

In a recent forensic contest the negative team of Raymond Zimmer and Gerard Tucker defeated an affirmative team from Wells College, Friday, February 15.

Selective Service H. Q. States Deferment Criteria

Selective Service headquarters announced recently that the criteria for consideration for deferment as a student at the present time is either a score of 70 or better on the Selective Service Qualification Test or class standing among the men in the upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class or upper three-fourths of the junior class. Seniors accepted for admission to graduate school satisfy the requirements if they are among the upper half of the male members of their senior class or make a score of 75 or better.

It must be remembered, however, that these requirements are only relative guides for the local boards which are not compelled to follow them. To draft or not to draft is merely a matter of the discretion of the board. But as a safeguard against unfair practices, any classification can be appealed provided it is filed in writing with the local draft boards within 10 days of the original notice of classification.

Many students are confused as to the meanings of a 1S or 2S classification. The 2S classification is considered on the basis of class standing or qualification test, but is given at the discretion of the board.

A 1S classification, however, is provided for by law. Only one such deferment is allowed and is given only if the student is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course. This would mean that a student with a 1S classification now can only receive a 2S classification for the remaining years of his education.

In a cigarette, taste makes the difference—and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellow, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky... for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better... proved best-made of all five principal brands. Responsibility-- An Honor And A Privilege

With advancement comes responsibility. Necessarily, as more and more power and authority are put into the hands of a certain group, that group must be prepared to shoulder an increase of responsibility as well. Very shortly, the Student Council intends to initiate a plan of student government that will present the student with a fair share of administrative and arbitrary power. This method of regulation and discipline is one that means advancement and a graver responsibility for each individual student of Le Moyne.

Student government has been known to succeed admirably in its purpose and effect in many institutions. It has been known also to fail in some places. The direct and single cause of failure or success is the student himself. The incorporation of such a system in any college is an honor, but it is a mission as well, that can only be accomplished by all-the-way cooperation and participation on the part of individuals. Any administration that allows the students such authority expects, and rightfully so, a just return. A just return is given when the operation of the system brings into fruition its proper consequents, order, discipline, justice and complete agreement and participation.

Such a plan can be made to work at Le Moyne. The decision rests with you, the individual student, not the student body as a vague, collective whole. Unless the Student Council receives entire support, its hopes cannot conceivably be carried out. If you want student government at Le Moyne, you must be cognizant of, and willing to receive, the responsibility that accompanies it. The task is a grave one, it is a mature one—but not an impossible one. Only you, John C. Student, can make the possibility a reality.

European Tours Sponsored By Newman Federation

Catholic College Students in cooperation with the National Newman Club Federation have announced four tours for 1952. Student members of the tours will visit six countries—Ireland, England, France, Italy, Switzerland and Spain—to view historic landmarks and religious sites. The tours are of 21, 31, 33 and 43 days duration, with departure dates and length of itineraries selected to fit school vacations.

To date tour B, featuring a visit to Rome, where an audience is planned with His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, is the most popular with 32 members registered. It is expected that the Holy Father will speak to the members in English and welcome them to the Eternal City. American Express-Catholic Travel League has been appointed to handle all travel arrangements for the tours.

Students at Le Moyne College may join any of the tours by contacting Paul A. Worlock, at Fr. Brady's office. Mr. Worlock has

THE TROTTER POLL By JOHN CONSIDINE

It has been brought to my attention that one of our columnists has conducted a private survey to ascertain the student body's impression of his piece of literature. To aid him in this onerous task, I have flung open to him the services of the Trotter Poll. Thus the question, "How would you compare Tales from Spin-Alley with the Trotter Poll?"

Charley Kraus—"The best article that Spinelli ever wrote was when he debunked Latin and Philosophy." (He should have quit while he was ahead.)

Robert Byrne—"It's a question of the voice of the people against one man's opinion." (Vox Populi.)

James McGlynn—"I don't see how you could compare them for they are two entirely different columns—both of them interesting. (We halved that hole, let's try the next one.)

Ludvig Vita—"I couldn't compare it, for Spinelli is in a world of his own." (!!!!)

Dick Kinney—"I like Spinelli better. I like his articles." (De gustibus non est disputandum.)

John Van Orman—"Being a member of the Rochester Club, I believe that the Trotter Poll is exquisitely written." (I'm blushing.)

Frances Morrison—"The Trotter Poll is a lot better, for at least you get the opinion of the students." (Bill's not a student?)

Dan Windhansen—"I think Spinelli's column is too biased, and this column is a good chance for some of the students to get even with him for some of his cracks." (Do you always take advantage of every situation?)

George Pandelly—"I like this a lot better than I do Spinelli's column. I just don't go for what he says." (That's the direction in which this car is driving, too.)

Vito Spano—"The Trotter Poll has more subtle humor and obtains the viewpoints of the students, whereas Spinelli is one-sided, egotistical in his attempt at a column." (And you received no remuneration for this, did you?)

Joe Taylor—"Spinelli should leave his column in the alley." (From whence it came.)

Ed Alexander—"Bill writes a very educational article and he deserves praise and commendation. (One for you, Bill.)

Curly Bertrand—"Both are outstanding and mild." (Plus no unpleasant after bounce.)

John Flynn—"I have been asked to make a comparison between the Trotter Poll and Tales from Spin-Alley, but the problem is, can one make a comparison between a Cadillac and an ice cream cone?" (Don't dent the fender of my Cadillac, Bill.)

A special six-day tour of Canada in August preceding the Pax Romana Congress has also been scheduled.

Father Lord Lecture Earns Acclaim; Emphasis on Home

Rev. Daniel J. Lord, S.J., noted Jesuit author and lecturer, charmed and captivated a large audience at Lincoln Auditorium on Thursday night, March 6, with his wit and wisdom in a talk entitled "Fun in the Family."

Approximately 1600 people turned out to hear Fr. Lord tell them that modern American parents are the best parents in the world but that they are afraid of their children. Children like to do things with adults, Fr. Lord maintained, and they would get into much less trouble if they felt that their parents were sincerely interested in them. Fr. Lord has had much experience with young people and on that basis tried to explain the customs, language and dress to the parents.

Another point that Fr. Lord stressed was that Americans have lost the knack of having fun. Fun is a natural part of life, he said, but too many people try to find their fun through observation rather than participation. Everyone should know how to dance and how to play cards. All young people should be encouraged to play a musical instrument and to sing. At the end of his talk Fr. Lord summarized by supplementing the quotation that "the family that prays together, stays together" with his own special suggestion that "the family that plays together stays together."

Mulvihill, Bintz, Sullivan Elected Officers Of Club

The Oswego County Club of Le Moyne held its annual election on Feb. 29. William Mulvihill, Junior I. R., was elected to the presidency. Joan Sullivan was elected to the position of Secretary-Treasurer.

C. Edward Bintz, Junior English major, was appointed Student Chairman of the Scholarship Committee to replace Robert Rowlee. This fall, the Club will offer its first scholarship to Le Moyne.

Dolphins Win Utica Tourney

Dolphin Sportlights

By Jim Rinella

With regular season play completed, the Dolphin eagers ended up with the worst won-loss record in the short history of the school. The Green and Gold were able to notch but five wins, with only one, the Siena victory, coming over major competition. At times this year the club showed flashes of brilliance. Against Siena, Manhattan and Canisius, the Dolphins looked like a top-notch college quintet. But at other times, especially against St. Francis of Pennsylvania and Scranton, they played like a high school team.

The team, this year, was hampered by a lack of seasoned veterans. Dolphin mentor, Tommy Niland, was forced to use Freshmen ball players to a great extent and although these Frosh performed capably, they lacked the necessary poise and experience. This should be remedied next year.

The total of 16 setbacks is not as bad as it looks since over half of these came against major college teams such as Seton Hall, Villanova and Boston College. But the pair of losses to Cortland and defeats at the hands of Hartwick, Gannon and Scranton did little for a team that is trying to fight its way into national prominence.

This year's schedule did, however, give the young club valuable experience. Next year, with eight of the first ten men returning and the probable addition of some good freshmen talent, the Dolphins should be set to roll.

WHAT HAPPENED AT GANNON

A look at the box score of the Le Moyne-Gannon game shows that we were really taken over the coals by the referees. The fact that we lost the game by a mere two points is amazing considering that we played half of the last quarter with only four men and the last minute with three. It's hard to see how unbiased officiating could be so one-sided as to call 42 fouls against Le Moyne and only 22 against Gannon. In our previous games this season, the Nilandmen did not resort to rough tactics so it doesn't seem likely that they'd start against Gannon. When a team is winning, as we were, why should they commit twice as many fouls as the opposition?

The Knights must have really coveted a win over Le Moyne. In the interest of the fans who were in attendance, it seems that the three-on-five situation could have been remedied. The Gannon coach could have allowed Le Moyne to use men with five personals on them and have a technical foul called when one of the players having five personals committed another foul. At least that way, the Dolphins would have had a fighting chance. But playing five or seven (if you're counting the officials) against three is rather an impossible situation although it insures victory.

The Dolphin eagers did manage to get into at least one post-season tourney this year, the Utica Optimist event. We think that this should be the last year that the Dolphins are entered in the Utica Tourney. The caliber of opposition furnished is not very high. Le Moyne has nothing to gain by a victory, except a large trophy, while a defeat would do more harm, in terms of prestige, than could be gained by a dozen wins at Utica. Wins over Hartwick, Oswego and Utica would do nothing to help our national ranking, while losses to these clubs would hurt considerably.

GOOD SUPPORT AT BUFFALO

Although only a few students made the trip to Buffalo, the Dolphins still had more rooters than they usually have in Syracuse. The student contingents from Niagara and St. Bonaventure, whose teams clashed in the second half of the double header, were pulling for a Le Moyne victory. The Dolphins almost accomplished that feat, being edged out in the closing minutes, 65-62.

Tommy Niland did an outstanding job scouting his brother's club. Two of the Griffins' main scorers, Young and O'Connor, were held down greatly, while their top point scorer, Heiderick, was limited to five field goals. Our good showing was not due to the fact that Canisius had an off night. On the contrary, the Griffins shot 40 per cent from the floor, which is a good percentage in any league. We don't like to make excuses, but if a couple of breaks had gone our way in the closing minutes, the Dolphins could have come out on the long end of the score.

SPORT SHORTS—The Dolphin Skaters continued their winning ways as Ray Lang and Dick Senecal came out with first place trophies in the Syracuse City Meets. . . . A look at the roster of the N.I.T. teams shows that nine of them are Catholic schools: St. Bonaventure, St. John's, Holy Cross, St. Louis, Duquesne, Dayton, Seton Hall, La Salle and Seattle have been entered.

Intramural Playoffs Slated Next Week; Plan Softball Loop

According to a special announcement by the Intramural Board, the Le Moyne College Intramural League has tentatively scheduled the Basketball League playoffs for the last two weeks of March.

The Intramural Board urges the captains and members of the teams to pay special attention to the first floor bulletin boards for information concerning the time and place of the playoffs.

With approximately two weeks of action remaining for regular league action, we find the "high-flying" Eagles leading both divisions with a perfect 7-0 record. The Eagles boast such talent as Paul Hamahan, "Nellie" Meagher, Bill Fallon, Chick Byrne and Al De Renzo. According to the members of the Eagles, the reason for their success to date has been the hook shots of "Chick" Byrne.

Behind the Eagles, we find the Bullets, Buckets, Invalids and Silver Fleas, all sporting records of six wins and one defeat. These four teams are still playing heads-up ball and are all eyeing the chance to be the spoiler of the Eagles record.

Down Hartwick In Finals; Jenks Wins Player Award

The Le Moyne Dolphins annexed their third straight title in the Utica Optimist Club's Tournament by downing Hartwick, 72-61, in the final round last Saturday night. The Dolphins had advanced to the finals the previous night when they waltzed to an easy victory over the host team from Utica College, 72-42.

J.V.'s End Season With 7-5 Record

The Le Moyne Junior Dolphins completed a successful, but abbreviated, season with a good 7-5 record. Two of the losses came at the hands of the undefeated Cortland J.V. quintet, while the powerful Aquinas Institute of Rochester five also handed the Junior Dolphins a pair of setbacks. Morrisville hung the other defeat on the Jayvees, though this loss was somewhat atoned for in an earlier game in which the Green and Gold came out on top.

The highlight of the season for the little Dolphins came when they defeated a power-packed Manlius cadet five on the War Memorial court. Also included in the list of Le Moyne wins were a pair of victories over Oswego and single wins over Hartwick, Ithaca and Hobart.

This year's Junior varsity team was handicapped because most of the starters were not always available, owing to the fact that they were seeing double duty with the varsity.

Top point producer for the season was John Sherlock, a senior, who dumped in 183 markers in 12 games for an average of 15.3. Next in line was Dom DeRegis, a freshman from North High, who tallied 146 points for a 12.2 average. Jack Young, another freshman, who divided his time between the JV and varsity squads, dropped in 109 points in seven games. His average of 15.6 points per game was best on the squad. Rounding out the squad were Jack Billy Jenkins, who paced the Nilandmen to their win over Hartwick with 16 points, was voted the Tournament's most valuable player.

The victory over Hartwick avenged an earlier season, 59-56, setback. The Dolphins were in command throughout the game, leading 21-10 in the first quarter and building the advantage to 18 points at the three-quarters mark.

Fred Sheridan and Jim Hand also hit double figures for the Green and Gold, Sheridan netting 14 points and Hand knocking in 13 markers. Ben Clark paced the losers attack with 17 points.

Hand Scores 22

Hand, displaying some of last year's form, had a field day against Utica College, hooping 22 points. Jack Young and Dick Shea were next in line with 13 and 10 points, respectively. Coletti was high for Utica with 13 points.

The Dolphins grabbed a 21-8 lead in the first quarter against Utica and lengthened it to 37-16 at the halfway point.

The pair of victories gave the Dolphins an over-all record of seven wins and sixteen defeats for the season.

Haggerty with 96 counters in seven games for a 13.9 average, Billy Feyerabend with 85 points in seven games, George Barr with 84 points and Joe Dunn with 44 points.

As a unit, the team averaged 72 points a game, while the opposition was limited to 63 points a game.

Shea Led Dolphins With Rebound Work

Dolphin followers have been greatly encouraged by the return to form of rangy Dick Shea. The loss of Shea in the beginning of the cage campaign, because of a broken ankle, was reflected in the team's play. In the last half of the season, when he was able to perform as a regular, the team has shown considerable improvement. Shea, a 6 ft. 4 in. center and forward, possesses a deadly eye on set shots, besides his splendid rebounding and board work.

He began playing basketball at the age of 15 while a junior at St. John the Evangelist High School. In his first season he made the varsity squad and was a determining factor in bringing the championship trophy to St. John's. The following year he led the Evangelist eagles to a third place finish in the league standings and victory in the playoff competition. He was selected to the All-Parochial squad at the end of 1949 and was headed for a great season the following year when he was declared ineligible because of a league ruling prohibiting the play of post graduates. Shea then played with the Blessed Sacrament senior men's team in the C.Y.O. League, averaging 24 points per contest against the leading independent squads in the Central New York district.

Last year as a Dolphin yearling he paced the frosh squad until January when he again was declared ineligible. As a freshman Shea scored 193 points in nine contests for a better than 21-point average. Against Morrisville Aggies Shea tied Billy Jenkins' frosh scoring record with a 33-point contribution and the following week put his own name in the record book with a 34-point spurge against the Ithaca Jayvees.

Dick's fine play in the last half of the season has encouraged Green and Gold rooters, especially in his board play. He leads the team in rebounds, even though he missed a great portion of the early contests.

Barring any mishaps, Dick should be a great asset to Coach Tommy Niland in his rebuilding process for the 1952-53 season.

Track Team Plays In Two Met. Meets

The Le Moyne indoor track team recently completed a busy week of activity, competing in the second annual small college meet in New York City and the National A.A.U. Meet, also in New York.

Jim Matthews sparked the Dolphin runners in the small college meet with a second place finish in the half mile. Matthews toured the course in 2:02 for his best showing of the current indoor campaign. George Rogers of Iona copped this event.

Bob Kolb, a freshman, finished seventh in the shotput with a heave of 35 feet, while Dick May placed sixth in the 500-yard run. May failed to qualify in the 300-

K C to Hold Degree Class For Le Moyne Students; 100 Candidates Expected

During the week of March 3, Ted Downes, a graduate of the Class of 1951 and now associated with the Knights of Columbus, came to Le Moyne to recruit members for the second Le Moyne Degree Class. Last year, 104 Le Moyne men became members, and this year, a representative number is expected to join the organization. Several members have already taken the first degree on February 19. The major degree, the third degree, will be held sometime in April. This degree is conferred on a Sunday and is preceded by an open retreat held on Friday and Saturday evenings for candidates and members.

At its annual banquet, February 18th, Alpha Phi Omega, Le Moyne's service fraternity, conferred an honorary membership on Anthony Henninger, president of the New Process Gear Corp. and a member of the Le Moyne College board of trustees.

Blair T. Gagnon, newly elected president of A.P.O., briefly reviewed some of the society's plans for the coming semester. One committee will assist the Spring Lecture Series by handling the duties of selling tickets and ushering at the talks.

Another project nearing completion is the publication of the A.P.O. Student Directory. And as soon as weather permits, the members will plant more trees in strategic locations on the campus.

Nilandmen Lose To Gannon, Canisius As Regular Season Play Is Finished

The Dolphin cagers finished their regular season's play with a pair of road losses to Gannon and Canisius. The game, slated to be played at Geneva against the Sampson Air Base five, was cancelled because of the Sabres' entry into the National Air Force Tourney. The Nilandmen thus ended the season with a record of five wins and sixteen losses.

The loss to Gannon can be explained the same way as the Manhattan defeat. The Nilandmen were called for 42 fouls. Seven of the ten men on the Dolphin roster fouled out, leaving only three men on the floor at the end of the game. Billy Jenkins, after being sidelined for two games with an injury, led the Dolphins with 20 points. Dick Shea was next in line with 13. Dick DeCarlo led the Knights with 16 markers.

Against the Griffins, the Green and Gold displayed their best brand of ball of the campaign and almost came up with an upset win over the highly-rated Canisius quintet.

Le Moyne led by four points at the quarter and held a two-point advantage at half time. The second half was nip and tuck, with the Griffins holding on to a three-point lead through most of the last stanza. Billy Jenkins again paced the scorers with 19 points—eight field goals and three free throws. Shea with 14 and Young with 12 were next in line. Krochmal paced the winners with 18 points, followed closely by Hedderick with 17 and Gregory with 14.

Debators Tie For First Place In Brooklyn Meet

At the Brooklyn College Tournament, March 7 and 8, Le Moyne's debating team tied ten other colleges for first place with a record of ten wins and two losses. But since Notre Dame had amassed the greatest number of credit points among those tied for first place, it was awarded the winner's cup. The Chaumont debators, with a total of 800 points, placed eighth in over-all standings.

Gerard Tucker and Thomas Burns, of the affirmative team, led the Le Moyne debators with a 5-0 record. Between them, Tucker and Burns averaged 48 credit points a debate. This is an "excellent" rating according to the scoring rules of the tournament. On the negative side sophomores Raymond Zimmer and Leonard Franklin posted three wins and two defeats, one of which went to the winning team, Notre Dame.

Forty-four colleges entered 53 debating units in the tourney. Each unit consists of a negative team and an affirmative team plus a critic-judge. Four other Jesuit colleges, Georgetown, Fordham, and St. Peter's also competed in the tournament.

Le Moyne's next major forensic attempt is the West Point National Tournament. The 34 colleges in this district will hold their regional finals for their tournament March 21 and 22.
